19	Brief note about the event	The Department of Mechanical and Mechatronics Engineering (MME) at LNMIIT successfully organized a one-week hands-on training workshop on "SolidWorks Modeling – Theory and Practice" from December 18th to 22nd, 2023. The workshop was coordinated by Dr. Deepak Rajendra Unune. The workshop aimed to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of SolidWorks modeling principles and hands-on experience in its application.
20	Program Outcome? If any	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> Comprehensive Curriculum: The workshop covered a wide range of topics, including but not limited to sketching, part modeling, assembly design, and simulation using SolidWorks. Hands-on Training: Participants actively engaged in practical sessions, applying the concepts learned during the theoretical segments. The workshop provided a conducive environment for learning and experimentation. Expert Instruction: Experienced instructors, both from LNMIIT and external institutions, delivered insightful lectures and guided participants through the intricacies of SolidWorks modeling. Networking Opportunities: The workshop facilitated interactions and collaborations among participants from diverse backgrounds, fostering a sense of community and knowledge exchange.
