Dear All,

We are excited to invite you to Google's Keras Community Day, a celebration of all things related to Keras and deep learning! Whether you're an experienced AI practitioner or just starting out on your machine learning journey, this event promises to offer valuable insights, networking opportunities, and the chance to engage with fellow enthusiasts.

Venue for the event will be LT-17, RIEP Building.

We have limited seats and admission will be on first come first serve basis. Registration for this workshop will be done using following link:
